FOREWORD

Amid the usual variety of subjects presented in this Issue Number 12, I should particularly underscore three articles concerning Brother Arnold. The preceding number of the Lasalliana has already introduced you to the biography of this holy Brother. At that time we were awaiting his eventual beatification. Now, the date has been set for November 1, 1987. Hence, it is but natural that we should give a particular place to Brother Arnold in this issue.

Throughout the liturgical developments of the beatification, there are certain things to think about. On reading the biography written by Brother Charles Lapierre, I became interested in the knowledge which Brother Arnold had of Saint John Baptist De La Salle and of his devotion to the Holy Founder. This is an area which might give us food for thought.

Do you not agree that the activities and engagements proposed by the Lasalliana over the past four year were an effective transmission of the charism of evangelization and of the educational intuitions of Saint John Baptist De La Salle?

For the past four years...: actually, there are 240 distinct articles which were presented for your reading and some of these were able to be used as working tools in all kinds of encounters with Lasallian groups.

As this fourth year of publication draws to an end, the Brothers in Rome who do the work of researching, translating, editing, and publishing this periodical, express their sincere gratitude to all those who have shown their appreciation for this work by submitting articles and to those readers and subscribers who have remained faithful to the Lasalliana over the years.
