

N° 37
3 / 1995-96

INTRODUCTION

* This issue of LASALLIANA completes the set of three numbers for the 1995-96 period. The new series for 1996-97 will begin in September with issues 38, 39 and 40.

* We continue to receive many articles for LASALLIANA, a most pleasing result that shows the great interest in reflecting on the themes of our life and mission and the evident concern for sharing these articles with others.

The contributions already received will appear gradually, and we regret that limitations of space and the number of issues per year oblige us to delay the appearance of some articles.

However, these necessary limits should not be taken as a sign of lack of appreciation of our contributors. The authors should know well that we welcome and value their work and that we will find room for the articles whose themes fit the general objectives of the publication: Lasallian themes and studies, our ministry, the mission of educators, etc.

* There is a noticeable increase in the number of articles written by our Lasallian colleagues. This is a good sign, and we encourage the Brothers to stimulate this type of work among all members of the Lasallian Family who are interested in studying and in sharing their thoughts about the Founder, his thinking, the Institute, our mission, and their personal experiences.

Their point of view will certainly enrich the entire Lasallian world.

* We are happy to notice with increasing frequency the articles and excerpts from LASALLIANA that are reproduced in reviews, bulletins and other District publications. The one thing we ask is that the correct reference be given to the source in LASALLIANA, including the complete identification number of the article.

Very cordially yours,

Brother José María Valladolid
Director of LASALLIANA
