

N° 39
2 / 1996-97

INTRODUCTION

* The current issue number 39 of LASALLIANA is the second in the 1996-1997 series.

In this issue we are giving special importance to section C concerning Mission, the educational and pedagogical process, because in recent months several contributions have arrived concerning topics in this section.

* Sometimes there are questions about the method used to classify the articles and it has been noted that there are two different systems.

Although this has been done on previous occasions, we will again attempt to explain this system since a good understanding of it will enable one to find easily a particular article that might be useful at a given time.

A. In the numbering of articles two classifications need to be kept in mind:

– The first includes issues 1 to 14. Within this classification there are three elements:

- * a number: this corresponds to the number of the publication;
- * a letter: this corresponds to one of the six section in which the articles are grouped
- * a number: this corresponds to the order of the article among those published in the same section.

– The second classification includes number 15-present. The classification of each article includes four elements:

- * The number of the publication.
- * The number of the article within the volume (from 1-20)
- * The corresponding letter of the section in which the article is found (O, A, B, C, D, E)
- * The order number of the article among all the others in its section.

B. Example: if an article is classified as 38-19-D-91, this means:

38: that it appears in issue 38 of the magazine;

19: that it is article 19 of the 20 that are published in each issue;

D: that the material of the article is included in the “Lay colleagues and the Institute, Lasallian Family, etc.” section. The six sections (O,A,B,C,D,E) appear in each issue, in a box, under the contents index.

91: that prior to this article there have been 90 other articles published in the same section.

We hope that this clarification will serve all readers especially the new ones.

* We wish all readers of LASALLIANA a very Merry Christmas and a 1997 that will serve as a good preparation for the Jubilee Year of 2000, one that will be filled with the Lord’s blessings.

Fraternally,

Brother José María Valladolid
Director of LASALLIANA
