

INTRODUCTION

- This issue of LASALLIANA completes the 1999-2000 series.
It is being sent together with Number 51, which provides an index of articles by author and title for Numbers 1 to 50, as a special issue for readers and users of the publication.
- This issue will be arriving in communities while the 43rd General Chapter is taking place. May it serve as a testimony of gratitude to all the Capitulants.
- Several months ago, with a view to presenting a report to the General Chapter, an evaluation survey was conducted in the Districts. We will probably be able to present in the near future a sheet offering a summary of the results.
The survey was conducted on two levels:
 - a) that of the Visitors or their representatives;
 - b) that of Brothers or lay persons chosen by the Visitors from amongst those who really make use of the publication.It is understandable that the results are of particular interest, not so much to those who appear to make use of LASALLIANA rarely or only occasionally, but to those who use it fairly enthusiastically.
It can be said already from the responses received, especially those of Brothers and lay persons, that the publication is considered useful in many parts of the Institute.
At the same time it is clear that there are sectors where it is little used.
It is encouraging also to note that there are plenty of Districts where it is made available to lay persons, in particular to those teaching in our educational centres.
- We repeat the offer made two years ago of sending free of charge the early issues of LASALLIANA, 1 to 12, while stocks last, in order to allow people to complete the set. The way of distributing the first issues was different from that currently used, and as a result many communities lack the early numbers. Please address requests for missing numbers to the attention of LASALLIANA.
